Press Release – Brand Rex Award Boston Networks ‘Value Added Reseller’ Status

Glasgow, Scotland, November 2007 -- Brand Rex, a global manufacturer of high performance cabling solutions for communications has appointed Boston Networks Ltd VAR status based on sales revenue and historical growth.

Brand-Rex is one of Europe's leading data communication cabling systems providers delivering the highest performance network solutions available in today's market. The data communications business, based at Glenrothes in Scotland, supplies high performance cabling systems to support IT networks for a variety of market sectors including finance, government and education.

Boston Networks Ltd Operations Director, Scott McEwan, said "Our continued growth and commitment to using only market leading, quality products has once again secured an enviable commercial partnership with one of the world's leading cabling systems vendors. VAR status allows us to provide a more competitive solution and leverages the strength and reach of Brand Rex to enable Boston Networks to secure more business, across the UK and beyond. Using Brand Rex products allows us to offer a superior product with unrivalled performance characteristics. This ability to offer competitive yet high performance cabling infrastructure services enhances our ability to provide ever higher levels of customer service."

Boston Networks have supplied and installed Brand Rex's copper and fibre optic product range since the company's inception in March 2000. Our in-house project management and engineering resource have undergone installation, design and warranty training over the years to ensure this quality brand is met with highly skilled expertise offering the customer a truly world leading solution.
